IT'S A LONG

The road is long, with many a winding turn,
that leads us to who knows where, who knows where.
But I'm strong, strong enough to carry him;
He ain't heavy, he's my brother.

So, on we go; his welfare is my concern.
No burden is he to bear, we'll get there.
For I know he would never weigh me down;

He Ain't Heavy —

LONG ROAD

If I'm troubled at all, I'm troubled by sadness that ev'ry-one's heart isn't filled with gladness of love for one another.

It's a long, long road, from which there is no return.

While we're on our way to there, why not share?

And the load doesn't weigh me down at all;

He's My Brother

words by Bob Russell

Dedicate . . .

One smile can multiply into a thousand. Throughout our years at Fairhaven High, one man has conveyed, through his smile, his joy of life to all of us. Although not everyone has experienced his talent for teaching, all have seen his smile or heard his heart-felt laughter in our corridors. His inborn youthfulness and zest have led us, the Class of 1974, to dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Donald J. B. Dufour.

Stanley J. Grabiec
Principal

Principal's Message

The Class of 1974 is faced with many problems, probably more than any other generation in our history. We no sooner withdraw our troops from Vietnam when we hear witnesses describe the political scandals amongst our top governmental officials and our economists detailing our perilous position in regard to raw materials.

This will be a long, long road for the graduates — one that will be filled with failure as well as success. I look forward for this class to accept their rightful responsibilities in correcting the above problems so that future generations may travel on a road of prosperity, happiness, and health.

"Congress shall make no law . . . prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; . . ."

Monitor Squad

The duty of the Monitor Squad is to keep the students moving, so it is possible for everyone to get to class on time. Their motto: "Keep on truckin'!" The head monitors this year are: Jim Murray, Diane Gaudreau, Karen Hayes, and Joe Mello.

Honor Society

The National Honor Society, an association in which the majority of high schools throughout America take part, is also an organization at Fairhaven High School. Students are elected to the Honor Society for high scholastic achievement and conduct.

AFS Club

"... for friends are found on every road. Can you ever think of any better way for the lost and weary travelers to go?"

French Club

"La langue, la cuisine, les modes, les chansons, et oh la! la!, l'amour! Voilà l'essence du cercle français!"

Sailing Club

"The empty sky is my best friend and I just cast my fate to the wind."

Ping Pong Club

This club, under the leadership of Mr. Donald Dufour, is for the type of student who enjoys having fun! Each year the members sponsor a ping pong tournament at which time prizes are awarded.

"An artist, suckled in the present of his past, is now nourished by his yesterday's dream and today's inspiration . . ."

Art Club

Ski Club

The Ski Club actively plans skiing trips for winter vacations, and views films relevant to its activity. With the help of their advisor, Miss Jean Campbell, the students travel to different ski areas during the winter season.

SAE FTA

This club consists of members who perform many activities during the year. Under the leadership of Diane Rose, the students put on cake sales, teachers' luncheons and work with younger students in grammar schools.

Key Club

The Key Club performs service activities of many natures for both school and community. Some of these include: student scholarships, food for the needy families, and clean up campaigns.

Student Council

The Student Council is a group of students elected to represent the student body. They are not only involved with school affairs, but they also help in community activities.

Assembly Committee

The Assembly Committee is comprised of students who are interested in bettering the assemblies at F.H.S. Under the advisorship of Mr. Carlton Albritton, they give the student body a chance to view many different types of programs during the year.

AV Club

The members of the A.V. gained a reputation in the last year, for being noisy, rowdy, sarcastic and often lazy. Yet despite all this, the club performed a valuable service to the school by delivering and picking up the audio-visual equipment.

Library Aids

The library aids assist Mrs. Louise Boyce, our librarian, by taking attendance in the library during their study periods.

Office Messengers

These hard working girls help the secretaries by distributing bulletins and helping with office work. They give up their free periods and should be commended for all they have done throughout the year.

Speech And Drama

“ . . . and existence is a happening, and we are craftsmen of conceptions to behold, wondrous works to create.”

Crafts And Sewing

Members of this group receive extra instruction from Mrs. McColleston on different sewing techniques and craft ideas. They receive knowledge of such things as tailoring and macramé.

Cake Decorating

Mrs. Pursley directs these girls on how to decorate cakes for different holidays and occasions. The results are beautiful and tempting desserts.

Majorettes

THE 1973 MAJORETTES ARE: Paula Goulet, Donna Bernard, Chris Dugan, Janice Braga, Sue Tollefson, Diane Coleman, Chris Hammond, Sandy Manzone, and LuAnn Voter.

Head majorette Diane Coleman leads her squad to the routine of "The Horse."

Blue Spirit

Pep Squad

These two groups of school-spirited girls support our football team throughout the season.

This year's Marching Band consisted of Blue Spirit, Pep Squad, Majorettes, and the two banner girls, besides the actual band members.

These students were led by Mr. Robert Clarkson, our band director, who planned many fine pre-game and half time shows to entertain the Fairhaven fans. Although our football season was not successful, the spirit of these members never failed.

Cheerleaders' Dance — 1973

Successful and overall enjoyable are two ways to describe this year's Cheerleaders' Dance. Music for dancing was provided by Shakey Sand. The highlight of the evening came when the cheerleaders announced the Queen and her court. Sharon Macedo, last year's queen, crowned Lisa Wojcik. Lisa was accompanied by Cathy Manley, her lady in waiting, and also by her court: Sandy Tillett, Judy Macedo, Beth Brown, Diane Rocha, and Ruth Taylor. This annual dance turned out to be a pleasant evening, as in years past.

Enthusiasm, responsibility and pride for F.H.S. are the characteristics that make these girls a tribute to our school. It takes a certain type of person to portray the 'never say die' spirit, which is the No. 1 trait that any cheering squad should have. Under the leadership of Sharon Labonte, they have achieved this and have proven themselves worthy to be labeled the best squad in the area!

With our Junior Days becoming numbered, we can look back on another great year at F.H.S. It began with the election of officers and executive board, and ended in a memorable Junior day ceremony. Throughout the year we undertook several projects including the construction of a float, our class project, and the planning of our Junior Prom. We all patiently await our final year at F.H.S. and hope that it will be as successful as this past one has been. To the graduating class of '74 we wish much luck and lasting memories of their years at Fairhaven High.

Sophomores assemble on the "stairs to success."

Of '76

Our first days at F.H.S. were inspired by the emotions which filled each and every one of us as we stepped into our roles as sophomores. At first, we were all a bit apprehensive and worried about how we would be treated by the faculty and upperclassmen, but soon all our fears were resolved as we became more and more familiar with the F.H.S. way of life. We began proving ourselves by participating in every school sport and activity. We dominated in football, entered the float contest, and achieved great success in our class project. Besides this, we continually strived to achieve great standards in education through the useful resources at Fairhaven High School. Now that the year is completed we hope to better our acquaintances with other classmates and be acknowledged for our spirit, sportsmanship, and friendliness in the next two years.

French sidewalk cafés set the mood of our long awaited Junior Prom evening, "A Night of Wine and Roses." Formally-attired couples entered to the Parisian atmosphere of linen tablecloths and scarlet roses to dance to the interlude of "Bandwagon." As the evening progressed, attention was drawn to Class President Chuck Robinson, who was to introduce the queen's court. Suspense mounted as Chuck announced the Lady-in-waiting, Sharon Labonte, and the anxieties of all were relieved as Leslie Lopes crowned Sharon Macedo our Junior Prom Queen. We will cherish always these fond memories of May 12, 1973.

The College Club Book Award is received by Sharon Macedo.

The gentle wind rustled white dresses and ties, as the Class of 1974 lined up in anticipation of our new roles as Fairhaven High Seniors. We slowly marched our well-rehearsed steps into the auditorium, and the orchestra's music accompanied us to our seats. Awards were presented to deserving members of the Junior Class, and the traditional mantle was accepted by Chuck Robinson, Class President.

Senior Class Officers

JAMES MURRAY, vice-president; EVA BISAILLON, treasurer; GISELLE L'ETOILE, secretary; BRUCE AMARAL, president

Our class came back to F.H.S. in the fall realizing the great need for money-making projects. Our representatives quickly went to work, deciding on these projects and planning the important dates for our senior activities. Now that the year is at its end we, the class of 1974, wish to thank our officers for their time and effort throughout the year.

Executive Board

Our American Field Service Student . . .

Mauro Peraga, our AFS exchange student this year, comes from Mercenasco, Torino, which is in Italy. Mercenasco is a small town of about 1,000 which is situated in the mountains of northern Italy. In the summer, Mauro moves out of his home to work at a summer resort. In Italy, he is going to an accounting school. He has a younger brother. His birthdate is December 2, 1956.

Mauro came to America and moved into the Robichaud home. He shared his high school experiences with his brother, Stephen, who is also a Senior. While in America, Mauro worked at Mike's Italian Restaurant as a busboy to earn extra money to spend on Beatle Albums. While in Fairhaven, he tried many new foods and had many different experiences. Although there is ice in Italy, Mauro never had a chance to go skating. Anyone who saw Mauro the first time he ever got on ice skates will never forget the moment.

We wish Mauro the best of luck back in Italy and hope he treasures many happy memories.

Our Beginning . . .

As the dark beginnings edge
into another glinting day,
Time has patiently waited for our awakening.
It watches as we stir and extend our hands to morning;
And dragging ourselves from bed stiff-legged and sleepy-eyed,
We obediently begin our journey to the classrooms.
Nodding recognition to our fellow classmates,
We fall in step into the old and unbroken tradition
Of learning from our teachers
how to ready ourselves for the outside world.
This preparation for our graduation instinctively brings us together.
For no other time in life is there such a great amount of souls Striving for the same goal: To survive in and make better the world we shall inherit.

As time moves on, we shall hear a strong beckoning,
And very timidly,
We will gather hands and huddle together.
Until suddenly we shall realize that we are finished with this sheltered world.
Smiling at one another and realizing it is time to graduate
We will gather our courage
. . . and leap in one stride together
Into the new type of life awaiting us.

And after we have scattered ourselves across the horizon,
We are only thin silhouettes
Against a vivid landscape;
We may wish to retrace the steps of our lives.
What better way
Can there possible be, to remember those days
Than to pull out a dust covered yearbook;
Created by the once young and inexperienced Senior Class.
And thumbing through our creation,
We will turn to this page yellowed by time,
To read of our history
of our high school years.
Before we know it.
Our eyes will stray to a window.
Our minds will kindle memories we've forgotten
And we shall sit and remember once again
the today that is now past:

Ninth grade . . . What we once thought was a year with endless hours
Is now a pale ray of remembrances.
Extracted from that long silenced time
Are memories . . . Boston, New York, and Washington, D.C. are but a few of the dreams that came true.

The great history classes of Mr. Sylvia, cafeteria food fight,

Study periods with Mrs. Rapp, informative math classes with Mr. Brazil,
And finally the class party, big bad ninth graders and Bruce's shuffle.

Perhaps our eyes can picture
the time and place
But what sophomore activities can we focus on?
What do we see?
Perhaps, in one corner:
Orientation Day,
when our poor fumbled souls were nothing but hysteria,
As we vainly looked for the non-existent elevator
Some eyes have thrust the images of those young children from St. Mary's.
Or our being burdened with "BLUE DEVILS" pens, which we dutifully sold.
What one may see another may not.

Having interrupted sleeping memories,
drowsiness recedes
And like a tree which drops leaves,
one by one,
Faded years become clearer.
Patiently we wait as the mind
summons up the past
Bringing back parts of our junior class:
And in that long dance of time
Our minds may focus on that first night of wine and roses;
Or rush swiftly past
to the morning
When the first pale rays of sunlight announced the dawning of Junior Day.

Our minds
greased with memories,
Now fall easily upon that last restless year.
When out from our shells we did creep;
Advancing to the doorstep
that led to the entrance of our new world.
Boldly, and in elegant fashion
Did we advance to the walls which barricaded our sheltered lives.
And as we slowly climbed the rungs of life
We dropped memories of the Senior Play,
the Senior Prom and Banquet, and Graduation.

Fortunately,
Our hands raked up memories
Shed throughout the years,
And while still green,
We gathered those precious moments
And arranged them
Among the withered leaves
Of this yearbook.

Do You Remember . . .

- . . . Those ninth grade honor society free rooms?
- . . . The “BLUE DEVIL” pens that didn’t write?
- . . . Dissecting those first frogs in Biology?
- . . . Mr. Paquin’s French classes?
- . . . Mrs. Kunz’s rubber glove and her Scientific American?
- . . . Mr. Cardoza and his Portuguese jokes?
- . . . Mr. Boyce’s Friday specials giving us the chance to express ourselves in writing?
- . . . Mrs. Howland’s emotional farewell?
- . . . Mr. Margeson’s filmstrips from the ceiling?
- . . . Mr. Marchand and his poullits, quacks, poo-poo’s, tiny tuna’s, crispy critters and hush puppies???
- . . . The last day of our junior year when we all played “Killer?”
- . . . Mr. Barriteau and his girls?
- . . . Those square dances at F.H.S.?
- . . . The first annual A.V. strike?
- . . . Thad’s after the junior prom?
- . . . Carol’s parties down West Island?
- . . . Pine Hill Pavillion?
- . . . Those morning coffee breaks?
- . . . Mrs. Knipe when she said, “How far are you on your Term Papers?”, when we hadn’t even started?
- . . . Investigating the secret rooms of F.H.S.?
- . . . The mad rush to get out of Business Law?
- . . . The College Board brain drains and no. 2 pencils?
- . . . The first F.H.S. talent show?
- . . . Mr. Malcolm’s 30 page homework assignments?
- . . . Meeting down the Fort and singing “Auld Lang Syne” in the snow after the Senior Play?
- . . . The energy crisis?
- . . . The great countdown of days on the blackboard in room 7?
- . . . Room 7???
- . . . DO YOU REMEMBER THE SYMPTOMS OF SENIORITIS: swaying in the breeze, skipping classes without getting caught, saying, Well, I’ve already been accepted at college so . . . , and nodding-off in class???
- . . . Do you remember twelve years of classes which we sat through, many times bored and unhappy?

*And Finally, Do You Remember
All Those Things We Can't???*

The "Byrd"

Once upon a time there was a Senior Float Committee who had a problem. They had no ideas or materials, only an empty garage to work in. Finally an idea was hatched — in the shape of a bird. "We'll make him red and fluffy, with wide flapping wings!" someone suggested. The work then began.

Supplies were bought, food was baked and everyone was happy. The stick frame soon was paper mâché and the "Byrd" matured into a full fledged feathered friend. Excitement mounted as the cage, crooked as it was, descended over the "Case Cardinal." Another problem arose when we all realized that our baby bird had now grown up and wanted to fly. With the necessary training, he soon was ready for the contest day.

The Sr. Float, "CAGE CASE" is presented.

The ingenious Senior Float Committee

"Just me and my "Bird!"

October 27, 1973 came, and despite the nervousness of it's guardians the "Byrd" was quite calm. Half-time came and we proudly presented "THE BYRD" to thousands of football fans.

"The winner in the class division is . . .

The Senior Float, "CAGE CASE"

He had performed so well! We were all so proud of our "Byrd!"

Senior Play —

The Diligent Daughters And Other Joys

Skits, card girls, and an 1890 play, highlighted the evening of the 1974 Senior Play. Many hard-working hours, which weren't easy to come by due to the energy crisis, proved to be the necessary link to produce a successful play. In sparse time, Mrs. O'Brien coached the inexperienced actors and actresses into playing their roles professionally, while the beautiful art work of the backdrop was being completed. This evening of February 2 will surely remain a special night for all the cast and crew of the 1974 Senior Play.

Kootchee, Kootchee, Koo!

Are you acquainted with the County Flirt?

The Temperance Ladies do their thing.

The entire cast takes it all in.

Tell it like it is.

I only had one or two.

Rose and Mrs. O'Brien get all choked up.

Lips that touch wine shall never touch mine!

Rogers' School

The Fairhaven Town Hall

A Tribute To Henry Huttleston Rogers

"I thought it was a castle," many a tourist to Fairhaven has exclaimed when viewing our High School. The school and many other beautiful public buildings were gifts to the town by Henry Huttleston Rogers.

Mr. Rogers was an example of how a man with ambition can work his way to the top. He began as a news boy and became a wealthy man in the oil world. Mark Twain often came to Fairhaven to visit Rogers, who had built his home in his native town. The estate was once near Fort Phoenix, but only a few remnants now remain.

Fairhaven Center was built by Rogers. The buildings there, essential to this community, were well appreciated both then and now. The beauty of the Millicent Library surpasses that of most, and the Unitarian Church equals many a famous Cathedral. Rogers' efforts will not be forgotten, and the gifts he gave to us will stand as a monument to him.

We don't make promises.
We make guarantees.

With all the options and offers we can make, there's no reason why we'd guarantee you something we can't deliver. And we won't.

Everything we guarantee will be put down in writing. In a legal document you get a copy of. In language you can understand.

We think today's Army has a lot to offer you, and we'll try to convince you of that. But we'll never try to mislead you.

If you want to find out about some of our offers, call or see your local Army Representative.

We of the A.V. Club of '74 suspect that Mr. Grabiec, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Boyce would like to express their deep gratitude to us, the members of the A.V.
Club for their extraordinary performance this year, while risking their reputation in order that truth, justice, and the American way could prevail in
